The below is what I am currently doing and I was wondering if there was a way to have each array as a separate value in an object. var mYOOP = { controlChain: function() { var myoopValue = {}; var process = []; var fp = []; var fp = []; mYOOP.fetchResults(); $.each(mYOOP, function(i, value) { process.push(value.result[0].name); fp.push(value.result[1].name); myoopValue[i] = fp[i]; }); return myoopValue; }, fetchResults: function() { $.post('post/fetch/controlChain', { controlChain: '1' }).done(function(results) { console.log(results); //$myoopService.fetchResults(results[0]); }); }, //....

Planning a course in psychology can be a daunting task, and as a teacher there is often a lot to work through. In psychology there are two main focuses: the study of the mind and the study of behaviour. The latter is often divided into two – cognition and motivation. The latter is often divided into two: cognition and motivation. the challenge of teaching modern psychology is two-fold: to keep up to date with the constant changes within the field as well as to keep the pace of new developments in research. a note on research and development students will be automatically assigned to one of three research and development departments within the psychology program:. from which they will select their mentor and thesis topic.
